GARBAGE ORDINANCE PASSED AT COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT

MUCH-MOODED QUESTION FINALLY DISPOSED OF BY CITY FATHERS—EFFECTIVE ON MARCH 1.

CHOOSE WILSON LANE

Named to Succeed George Croft as Supervisor of Fifth Ward—Street Improvements Again Discussed.

After weeks of delay, the much-discussed garbage question was finally settled for all times by the city council last evening when it adopted an ordinance by which the city takes over the collection of garbage on March 1.

The delay resulted because the ordinance as originally presented, made it imperative that the council take over collection on the passage of the measure. At the instigation of Alderman Dullin the ordinance was amended to read effective on March 1. The measure was then given its first and second readings and on motion of Alderman Dullin rules were suspended and the ordinance given its third reading and put on passage. All of the aldermen voted for the ordinance.

Hope to Sub-let Contract.
On March 1, 1919 the city will take over the collecting of the garbage, but it is desired and hoped that the enterprise can be sub-let to some man. The city clerk will advertise for bids for this contract as soon as all arrangements are completed.

After the reading of the minutes by City Clerk Hemming a vote of thanks from the Spanish War Veterans for the use of the hall was presented by Charles Croft.

An invitation from Edward Baumann, captain of Company G, Wisconsin State Guards, was read, inviting the city to accept a dinner and buffet lunch at the armory after the meeting. On motion of Alderman Dullin the invitation was accepted.

The resignation of George Croft as supervisor of the Fifth ward was read and accepted. As there is a meeting of the county board today, Mayor Valentine urged that a successor to Mr. Croft be elected at the meeting. Alderman Dullin of the Fifth ward proposed the name of Wilson Lane, and on motion of Alderman Horn the city clerk was instructed to cast a unanimous vote for Mr. Lane.

Receptive Routine Reports.
Alderman Ransom presented the report of the municipal court and moved that the order be received and read. The report of the police department was received and placed on file. Both orders were passed.

Alderman Croft presented the report of the board of education and asked that it be received and published.

Alderman Welsh presented the report of the city engineer and moved that the subject of transferring the saloon license of John Karberg to O. M. Roschko be put over for two weeks. Alderman Dullin presented reports of the city auditor and the plumbing inspector and moved that both reports be received and placed on file.

Alderman Dullin stated that as chairman of the purchasing committee he had received four bids for the plumbing work in the detention hospital. The contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, with a bid of $221.30.

Alderman Dullin presented a motion asking that specifications for the new building of the city be taken at once and that steps be taken to sub-let the work for a period of five years. The motion was passed.

Discuss Jackson Street Bridge.
Alderman Welsh, President of Dullin each spoke a few words regarding the building of the new bridge on Jackson street. Alderman Dullin was displeased with the progress being made and requested that if the city engineer did not have enough help that sufficient should be given him at once as it was imperative that the work be done. The question of the laying of pipe and it developed that no steps had been taken as yet for the laying of the pipe, and that one car was already on hand.

Alderman Paulz then brought up the question of streets and improvements. He did not get very far, however, as he entered a motion that North and South Milwaukee street and South Bluff from Milwaukee to Court street, be paved. Alderman Dullin was on his feet immediately and urged Mr. Paulz to investigate matters relative to the paving of North River street before such a motion was introduced. On motion of Alderman Dullin the question was laid over for two weeks.

Alderman Paulz then addressed the council regarding the detention hospital and stated that most of the work was finished and that a tour of inspection of the building would be made today at nine o'clock, and urged all of the members to attend if possible.

On motion of Alderman Dullin the council adjourned.

PRESIDENT WILSON MAY TOUR AMERICA

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Paris, Monday, Jan. 13.—President Wilson is considering a speaking tour of the United States when he returns home.

With congress adjourned early in March Mr. Wilson would have an opportunity for such a tour before returning to Europe should he follow his original plan and if his return should be necessary. He would also have time for his proposed trip before the convening of an extraordinary session of congress should he decide to call one. The object of his proposed speaking tour would be taken to inform the country by personal contact of the proceedings at Paris and at the same time sound out and encourage sentiment in support of the peace principles he has enunciated.

SERGT. WILBERT RYAN RETURNS TO U. S.; HURT

Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, 408 Park avenue, have received word that their son, Sergt. Wilbert Ryan, Co. M, 123th infantry, has arrived in this country, wounded, and is at a convalescent hospital at Hoboken, New Jersey.

Sergt. Ryan is wounded in the left leg. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan are expecting that he will arrive in the near future at Camp Grant, where he will be assigned to the base hospital.

In a recent letter received by Mr. Ryan from France a clipping is enclosed from a French newspaper, telling of the gallant work performed by the 32nd division, called by their French comrades "Les Bleus."

The 32d division has fought on five different fronts and has battled with twenty crack German divisions. On Oureq and on the Vesle they battled with bravery and courage which was the wonder of even the most war-weary French veterans.

It was the 32d division which for months held a portion of the Meuse sector against the attacks of the Germans, who desperately strove to win it. The 32d division was engaged in a big drive on the Germans when the armistice was signed, and it is now that division which is triumphantly marching into Germany, forming a part of the army of occupation.

The article in the paper was written in the most flattering language and may be said to express the exact sentiment of the French people in regard to the 32d division.

In all these battles which they so gallantly fought, the boys of Co. M were in the thickest of it.

A Real-Fruit Dessert

For Six People—Our Treat

Fruit-Juice Essences

Sealed in Glass

This offer is made to awake the housewives of this city to a delightful fact.

Fresh-fruit desserts, made with real fruit essence, are at your instant call for a trifle.

Jiffy-Jell is a new-type gelatine dainty. The flavors come in liquid form, in vials—a bottle in each package.

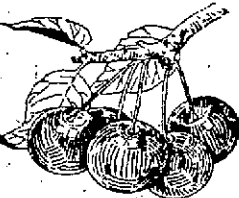

The fruit flavors are essences, condensed from fruit juices. They contain all the delights, all the healthfulness of fruit.

They are rich and abundant. We use half a Pineapple to make the vial of flavor for one Jiffy-Jell dessert. We use 65 big Loganberries in another.

No Mock Flavors

Jiffy-Jell flavors are not artificial. They are not in a dry form to lose fragrance and freshness. They are fresh fruit itself, condensed and sealed in glass.

They bring to your table—in midwinter—the zests and delights of fruit-time. They bring you real fruit when you need it most, and bring it at trifling cost.

12½ Cents Per Dinner

Jiffy-Jell comes ready sweetened. It comes acidulated and in proper color, and with a vial of fruit essence.

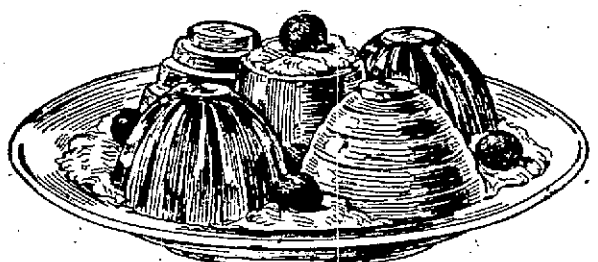

You simply add boiling water, then the flavor from the vial, and set the dessert to cool.

One package of Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form, or 12 if you whip the jell—all for 12½ cents. It costs far less than pies or puddings. And it brings you a real-fruit dainty, healthful and delicious—the most welcome dessert you can serve.

You Need It Now

Now is when you need it most—when fresh and canned fruits are both high and scarce. Fruit is essential to good health. It is the best form of dessert.

So we ask you now to find out how much Jiffy-Jell will mean. Compare it with the old-style gelatine desserts. It will bring you a new idea of quick, fruity desserts. It will open the way to countless delightful dinners.

Made in a moment—costs two cents per serving

Also for Salads, etc.

Lime Jiffy-Jell—flavored with lime fruit—makes a tart, green salad jell. Serve with your salads, or mix the salad in before cooling. Use cooked or uncooked vegetables, and make them into zesty jelly salads. Or mix in meat scraps and make a delicious meat loaf from your left-overs.

Mint Jiffy-Jell—flavored from mint leaves—makes an ideal garnish jell. Serve with roast lamb or cold meats. It is vastly better than mint sauce.

One Dinner Free

We make you this offer for this week only, to urge you to try Jiffy-Jell. Buy two packages from your grocer in any two flavors. They will cost you 25 cents. Then present him this coupon, and he will give you one package of Loganberry or one package of Pineapple, and will charge the price to us.

Loganberry and Pineapple are two of our favorite fruit flavors. We want you to serve one as our treat. Get it from your grocer with this coupon.

WE NEED MORE MUSIC.
Sunday night the writer attended a band concert at a local theater. The program was varied; it consisted of both popular and classical selections.
It extended over an hour, and of that hour the audience, which comfortably filled the theater, enjoyed every minute. We looked over the crowd and from each face was shown the appreciation of good music.
People love music. Some may not care particularly for it, but it is indeed a strange person who is not thrilled by the strains of a beautiful melody; who is not aroused by the stately rendition of some masterpiece
of a great composer.

Why cannot Janesville have a series of popular concerts at stated periods at which those who care to enjoy a treat by paying a nominal admission fee? We have a good band which would grow a great chorus in aged to appear more often in public.
Occasionally outside organizations
could be brought here for a special program. Community singing could be encouraged and perhaps from that would grow into a great chorus in which those who love the qualifications could find pleasure and profit.

We have our singing club, but it does not let in the fellow who wants to sing because he loves to sing. It does not furnish an outlet for the woman or man who wants to sing, but has no one to sing with.

The organization of a committee to take up the matter of placing music
before the whole populace could easily be accomplished with little expenditure and slight endeavor on the part of those called upon to make the arrangements.

Let's finish out the winter with entertainment which all can enjoy.

LENNROTH'S RAILROAD PLAN.
While railroad experts, members of congress and others are wrestling
with the problem of railroad control, Senator Lennroth of Wisconsin comes to the front with a plan which may receive favorable consideration when it is presented to the law-makers at Washington in the form of a bill.

Senator Lennroth proposes that the government and owners of the roads form a partnership. His plan involves neither government ownership nor operation, but provides that the connection between the government and the roads be so close that the partnership can be made possible.

Senator Lennroth's plan is "incorporation by the government of either one railroad corporation with an authorized capital sufficient to acquire all the railroads, or a number of regional railway corporations, with sufficient capital to acquire all
the railroads in the territory of each,
the temporary organization of the corporation to be made by the government, probably the interstate commission acting as a temporary board of directors."

The corporation should be authorized to acquire railroad property upon a basis of compensation to be fixed in the law, and the capital stock to be sold to the public or issued to the owners of the railroad in exchange for their properties upon a guarantee returned by the government of a minimum per cent, probably three and one-half or four per cent.

The permanent organization
should be effected through the appointment of a bare majority of the board of directors by the president,
with confirmation by the senate.
These members should be appointed for a long term, of say ten years each.

The remainder of the directors
should be chosen by the stockholders and employees, the stockholders having a majority of the minority. The board of directors should have full authority except that no stock or other securities should be issued by them except with the approval of the interstate commission.

"All the powers of the interstate commerce commission, over-rates, service and discriminations, should be continued, and the state railroad commissions should be pressed to cooperate with the federal body."
While the stock of the corporation is to be guaranteed, a minimum return provision should also be made that any return beyond fixed rates,
say six per cent, should be divided between the stockholders and the government, with the larger share to the government, with the provision that all revenues the government thus received should be utilized directly in the reimbursement to the government of any deficiency the government might be called upon to pay in fulfillment of its guarantee, the balance to be lent to the corporation without interest for the purpose of paying for extensions and betterment. No loan thus advanced, however, should be regarded as additional capital of the corporation."

Club women in an eastern city have discovered working girls dress too well, and suggest that those employed in public places wear uniforms. It would seem that the women could provide good, wholesome amusement for them in their leisure hours rather than interfere with their personal rights in regard to dress.

Another Janesville blue star has turned to gold. James Fleming, faithful soldier, has laid down his life that we might be free from German Kultur. To the sorrowing mother the sacrifice seems great, but the glory of making such a sacrifice will lend radiance to the star of gold which will ever remain emblematic
of a hero's duty well done.

conomic conditions that will prevent such a situation in the United States.

A Rock county woman has offered to give $100 to a fund to provide a recreational center for working girls and women. The gift was unsolicited and the spirit in which it is offered makes it doubly valuable as an incentive to start such a much-needed
and desirable project at once.

Better be laying away such thing for the fifth Liberty loan, which will probably be called early in April.

PRESS COMMENT
Shorten Globe Routes.

The war is going to change routes of travel and commerce in no small degree. One thing which now looks to be certain is that a railroad will be linked up connecting Paris with the port of Athens, the Bosphorus for the eastern Mediterranean; and with the lower Euphrates river for India. The latter will replace the former application for the Berlin-Bagdad route. It will shorten the distance from London to India by a thousand miles.—
Rockford Register-Gazette.

Thrills and Thrillist
We must thrill with national pride
over the reception given President Wilson at all accounts agree that the greetings and ceremonies that have welcomed him exceed that ever before shown to royalty itself.
Anyway the real American feels that he too is included since the president is representing the American people.—
Racine Journal News.

Tardy Justice.
Director General MacAdoo's calm overriding of state railroad commission and other state regulating bodies in fixing railroad rates, alleging that such bodies can have nothing to say even about intrastate rates during the time of control, is but another instance of the government's lofty unconcern toward conditions which under private management were so potent in bringing the railroads to the verge of bankruptcy.—Appleton Daily Post.

Keep up Community Singing.
It is the hope of the national government that, wherever Liberty Choruses have been established, they will be maintained for the patriotic work which lies in the immediate future,
and wherever possible, made permanent organizations.—Elgin (Ill.)
Courier.

The Biggest Navy.
Those nations know what they want, have made up their minds to have it. And what they want is a powerful, efficient navy. ALL nations of the world, but of THOSE THREE NATIONS, plus the United States of America.—The Wisconsin News.

American Made Toys.
The American-made toy has developed rapidly in this country during the past four years, the war having shut off former sources of supply and literally forced Americans to go into this business on a much larger scale.
The war Germany furnished most of the toys for American trade,
and although Germany may try to regain this trade it is doubtful if she can do so.—Milwaukee Journal.

Mr. Truth Coming Out.
Of course Germany started the war.
She tried desperately to prove the contrary, but failed miserably. Throughout all the early stages of the conflict her printing presses were busy grinding
out falsehoods to substantiate a lie.
Now we are obtaining additional evidence, and it will come thick and fast, for "confusion is good for the enemy."—Madison Democrat.

The Bear That Walks Like a Man.
Shall the world be Russified?
Not by forcibly seizing the territory of other nations as under the czar rule, but by the other and just as effective a method, to wit, of compelling
the world to adopt Russian "Kultur"
through Bolshevism.—Beloit Daily News.

A Tribute to Mr. Taft.
Mr. Taft is writing an honorable page in his life history. Among Republican leaders who are seeking to make party capital out of opposition to President Wilson's mission to Europe, he is the solitary exception. His cordial endorsement of the president's idea of a league of nations and his approval of the president's course in going abroad to advocate it in person are in strong contrast to the short-sighted and obstreperous behavior of his Republican confederates. His position is judicial, statesmanlike and farseeing, whereas theirs is partisan, parochial and unintelligent.—Milwaukee Journal.

Still It Snowed.
And it snowed and snowed, but even that failed to remove many property holders that it was advisable to clean off the sidewalks.—Pond du Lac Reporter.

Persuasive Powers.
Let us calmly admit that the persuasive powers of the president so often employed upon congress are being now directed upon the allied powers
straightening out points of trouble.—

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST.
UNITED STATES
He shall be great who serves his country well.
He shall be loved who ever guards
her fame.
His worth the starry banner long
shall tell,
Who loves his land too much to
stoop to shame.
Who shares the splendor of these
sunny skies,
Has freedom as his birthright and
may know
Rich fellowship with comrades brave
and wise;
Into the realms of manhood he may go.
Who writes, "United States" beside
his name,
Offers a pledge that he himself is true;
Gives guarantee that selfishness or shame
Shall never mar the work he finds
to do.
He is received world-wide as one who lives
Above the sordid dreams of petty
gain,
And is reputed as a man who gives
His best to others in their hours
of pain.
This is the heritage of Freedom's
soil:
High purposes and lofty goals to claim,
And he shall be rewarded for his toil
Who loves his land too much to
stoop to shame.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

PICTURES
A woman friend of mine
Said the other day that she Had painted a wonderful picture—
Wonderful to her and fascinating.
With a mental brush.
And colors drawn from the Deep fount of imagination.
It was the picture of her future
As she would fashion it.
It might not attract a glance
From any other in the world,
But to this woman it was A little glimpse of heaven.
This picture was the one thing
That made life worth the living.
"Yet," she sighed, "I know,
Deep down in my heart,
That it will never materialize."
And we are artists all.
Drawing our pictures
And asking them to come true.
Laboring with palette and brush,
Striving for the perfect ensemble.
Never quite reaching it Because ambition is never
Of final incomplete—
For that is life—
To paint and paint
Upon the same old canvas
And find it the same Old canvas—
Yet dearer far than the Most wonderful masterpiece
In the realm of intrinsic art
Stands your own amateurish effort,
Crude and unfinished—the picture
Of your own future.
As you think it should be.
Happy indeed was Omar
Who lived in the Today
And let the Tomorrow go hang,
For Omar never painted
A picture of his future.

He might have been.

Swift & Company's 1918 Earnings

How They Affected You

During the twelve months ended Nov. 2, 1918 (its fiscal year), Swift & Company transacted the largest volume of business on the smallest margin of profit in its history.

Profits of the meat business—under regulations of the United States Food Administration—were limited to a maximum of 9 per cent on capital employed but not to exceed 2½ cents per dollar of sales.

Swift & Company in the regulated departments earned 7.57 per cent on capital employed and 2.04 cents per dollar of sales, out of which had to be paid interest on borrowed money and taxes. Here is how these earnings affect you.

Live-Stock Raiser—

Swift & Company killed 14,948,000 head of livestock, which weighed alive, 4,971,500,000 pounds.

Swift & Company made a profit of only a fraction of a cent per pound liveweight.

Consumer—

The sales of our meat departments were 4,012,579,000 pounds on which our earnings were less than ½ cent per pound.

The per capita consumption of meat in the United States is given as 170 pounds. If a consumer purchased only Swift & Company's products, he would contribute only about 78 cents a year, or 1½ cents a week as profit to the company.

"KILTIES" GIVE A DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

Famous Canadian Scots Band Under Management of T. P. J. Power, Now Playing at Myers Theatre—Followed by Stock Company.

Dressed in full kilted regimentals, the Kilties Band, now playing at the Myers theatre, are pleasing to the eye—and how they can play! Their concert, which are changed daily, run the whole musical scale, from the popular American music to the very best of operatic airs. The program lasts just one hour, preceding the offering of the Breckenridge Stock company.

Under the direction of Conductor William McIntosh, the band offered the below program last evening, and as additional features were songs, bagpipes and dances by Vee Jamie Clark, who can scirl the pipes in a manner to gladden the heart of any Scot. J. Coates Lockhart, tenor, rendered some of Harry Lauder's best songs in a way that would have been approved by Lauder himself, and responded to several encores.

has a winsome way that is bound to make her popular. Adolph Winninger, playing leads this season, distinguished himself as Robert Carter. One could hardly imagine a better type of southern judge than that portrayed by John D. Winninger. As Judge Priest he was fine.

Mitt on H. Goodhand was very good as Mr. Nash. Mabel Mudgett as "Birdy" won the sympathy of the patrons.

Mary Avery, a favorite with the company for years in the part of Sarah Ann Barbee showed her usual talent.

Elly Arden as Mrs. West and Irma Earle as Florence Hardin were clever in their work all through.

The principal comedy lay in the hands of Hugh J. Adams, as Jeffery, who was enjoying her usual health.

A certain paper gave an account of her going to a "shell hospital" and it is probable that this is where the story started. She went but not as a patient but as a nurse. The many friends of Miss Sater are delighted to learn these facts.

Evansville News

K. of P. Hunt and Dinner
Evansville, Jan. 14.—Two years ago the members of the Knights of Pythias lodge inaugurated a very novel and enjoyable custom of a hunt, followed by a game dinner, intending then to make it an annual event. But due to war conditions a very cold last winter, the project was abandoned for that year. This year, however the old custom is to be followed.

The membership of the lodge is divided into two parts, with about twenty-five members on each side, under the leadership of Charles Burtis and Ben Green as captains. Today the mighty hunters started forth, braving the wilds, weather and the fierce beasts in this vicinity, out for a big game.

Each side is determined to out do the other and bring back to camp the most game, as trophies of their skill as marksmen. On Thursday evening at their hall a dinner will be served which the losing team of hunters must serve to the winners. The dinner will be prepared by the members of the Pythian Sister lodge and will be enjoyed by the members of both the Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sister lodge and their invited guests. ## Get 7 Per Cent for YOUR Money

We are selling "across the counter" direct to Milwaukee and Wisconsin people an issue of $3,600,000 of 7%, 5-year, bond-secured Gold Notes of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company. More than a million dollars' worth of the Notes have been bought in the first 30 days, mostly by Milwaukee people who know the Company and the property.

Issuance and sale of these Notes was authorized by the Wisconsin Railroad Commission to finance the growth of greater Milwaukee's electric service system.

Principal of the Notes will be repaid in cash Nov. 1, 1923.

These Notes are on sale in $50, $100, $500 and $1,000 sizes. They sell at par. Your Notes start drawing 7% interest for you from the day you buy them. You draw interest twice a year—May 1 and Nov. 1—by simply cutting off your interest coupon, taking it to the nearest bank, and getting cash for it. These Notes are readily saleable in case of need.

Milwaukee is as solidly prosperous as any city in the world. This Company supplies virtually all of Milwaukee's electric power, light, heat and transportation services. The State-appraised value of the property back of the Notes exceeds funded debt by over $16,000,000. The State rate regulation law assures a reasonable yearly return on State-appraised value. Besides being a general obligation of The Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, these Notes are further secured by deposit of $4,500,000 of 40-year bonds of the Milwaukee Light, Heat & Traction Company with the First Trust Company of Milwaukee as Trustee for the Note buyers. These Companies, thus joint guarantors of these Notes, during their twenty-two years in business have never failed to pay on the due date every dollar of their obligations, with interest as agreed.

Is YOUR MONEY earning 7% with equal SAFETY? If not, we shall be glad to sell you some of these Notes.

Janesville buyers are asked to ORDER DIRECT FROM THE COMPANY. Address: SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, Public Service Building, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. You can send payment with order, or, if you wish it, we will deliver the Notes in care of your home bank, C. O. D. If your home banker advises you not to buy these Notes, and tries to sell you something else paying a lower interest rate, you can tell him the Milwaukee banks have bought hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of these Notes, for themselves and their customers.

CHAPTER XXII.

In those days the United States of America suddenly woke to the fact that they could pull themselves out of bankruptcy by helping the benighted states of Europe into it.

There were sudden reverses of fortune and sudden collapses of fortune. As in bonanza times, many were ruined, while the few prospered. But Clay and Bayard seemed to touch nothing that did not turn to gold. Bayard had gained immense prestige with his firm because of the huge orders he brought in. He took all the power that was accorded and grumped for more. His most reckless audacities were rewarded with success. He rode a tidal wave and swam with it so well that all his progress seemed to be due to his own power.

Bayard astounded Duthill with the solution of that old account, and with a cash payment for new gowns in celebration of his new glory. He did not forget his own people. He telegraphed his mother a thousand dollars and almost slew her with amazement. He telegraphed his father simply the price of a railroad ticket to New York and a peremptory summons to take the first train east.

When Daphne heard this she had to sit down to keep from falling down. Bayard resuscitated her with a check for a thousand dollars. It meant nothing more to her than abstracted algebra. The whole incredible attention was a fairy story to her. She made a faint attempt to refuse the gift, but Bayard forced it back into her palm and closed her fingers on it.

She repaid Bayard with kisses till she lost count and embraced till they both lost breath. Then she borrowed from him enough cash to pay her moss-grown bill with the Chivvies.

Daphne could not wait for the elevator. She ran up several flights of stairs, scratched the door with her pained latchkey and flung herself into Mrs. Chivvies' arms and kissed her—even Mrs. Chivvies. Her apology was the money for the bill. She flaunted before her the check bearing the heavenly legend, Commandment the Fifth.

COAL DUST LODGED IN MINER'S LUNGS

Mr. Bunn tells how his cough was conquered and health restored.

"I contracted a bad cough in November 1916. I was working in a coal mine and the doctors said the coal dust had settled in my lungs. I kept coughing worse, couldn't lie down on my right side, coughed so I couldn't sleep and had constant pain in my right lung and under my shoulder blades. I coughed so hard the blood would spurt out of my nose. I soon lost 30 pounds. Finally the doctors said I had chronic bronchitis and I went to the Cumberland mountains and lived out doors, but didn't improve.

Then I came back home and started on Milks Emulsion. Thank God it did as it did me a lot of good right from the start. I lost the coal dust and the coal dust that had settled in my lungs. In a few weeks my lungs were free from coal dust. I could sleep at night like a baby, had an excellent appetite and my cough left me entirely. I gained back 30 pounds in weight and went back to work in the mines completely restored to health. I am working every day and I feel like a new man. I did it in my life."—C. H. Bunn, 308 Ave. C, No. 13th St., Terre Haute, Ind.

Thousands of victims of dust, coal dust, in mines and factories, develop the same trouble that Mr. Bunn had. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try, so why not at least try it? It is certain to be a help, and it may do as much for you as it did for Mr. Bunn.

PETEY-DINK—IT'S GOOD-BYE COIN OR GOOD-BYE STENOGRAPHER.

Avon bank to "Pay to Daphne Kip or order one thousand and no hundredths dollars" on penalty of incurring the displeasure of "Bayard Kip."

Mrs. Chivvies handled the parchment with reverence, and permitted her husband to touch it. It might have been one of the golden leaves of the sacred Book of Mormon, and she a sealed wife of Brigham himself.

"What are you planning to do with all this?" she said at length.

"I don't know," said Daphne. "What would you suggest?"

"You were planning to go into business. Why not use this as capital?"

"Fine! What business ought I to start—banking? or battleship building, or what?"

"There's embroidery," said Mrs. Chivvies.

Daphne had to guffaw at that. Mrs. Chivvies did not laugh. "I mean it," she urged, "think it over."

"All right, I'll think it over."

The novelty of being rich lost its savor with Lella, and the monotony of being neglected began to prey upon her daimonic soul. She and Daphne forgot their mutual grievances for their common grievance.

"That's the trouble with these husbands," Lella grumbled. "When they're in luck you can't lose 'em, and when they're in good you can't find 'em."

"It's the same with fiancées," said Daphne.

Daphne had the worst of it, for Lella began to wander again, leaving Daphne to the society of Mrs. Chivvies, who kept urging her to invest her dwindling thousands before it was gone. But in the environs of noisy riches the schemes of Mrs. Chivvies demanded such prolonged labor for such minute profit that Daphne remained cold.

She began to resent Clay's neglect morosely. The few attentions he paid her only insulted her; his mind was so far away and his heart was all for his business. He was dazzled by the fierce white light of success, and he spoke to Daphne in a kind of drowsy hypnotism. And he spoke incessantly of the details of his business, or his gambblings. He could not see how deaf she was to the very vulgar fractions of his speculations, or the mad arithmetic of his commissions. She yawned in his face when he grew eloquent on the dynamics of wealth, the higher philosophies of finance. And he never knew. He kissed her good-by as if he were kissing a government bond, safe and quiet and all his own.

After one of Clay's visits Mrs. Chivvies found Daphne in a brown study. Mrs. Chivvies explained her own affairs, and Daphne was so exhausted with the sultry problems of love that Mrs. Chivvies' business gossip was completely refreshing.

"I've been down to the Woman's exchange," she said, "trying to sell some of my needlework. They were very nice about it, but it means a terrible amount of labor for a pittance of money. You have to pay them so much a year for the privilege of putting your things on sale there. Then they don't guarantee to return it in good condition, and they don't guarantee to sell it; or if they do they charge you 20 per cent for their end of it."

"I couldn't see any profit in that, so I went to one of the jobbers. He said my style of work brought good prices in the big stores. But they won't pay him much and he'll pay me less."

"I was thinking—There's money in these things and in all sorts of needle things if you have a little capital."

"That's different," said Daphne. "And I've got some capital now. Do you remember suggesting to me once that we might go into business together—you to furnish the brains and I the money?"

"Oh, I didn't put it that way!"

"Anyway, it's true. Well, would you?"

"Land's sake! If you're a mind to furnish the money and the ideas and let me count the pennies, I'd like nothing better."

"Great! What would we go into?"

"What would you prefer?"

"Oh, any old business that will keep me busy and make a lot of money."

"My husband says that you can't make a lot of money without putting in a lot. That's one reason he has been kept down so. He never could get ahead. That was what we were saving up for—to get a little capital. And then the war came along—and we had to spend our savings. That same war has made your brother so rich that he could give you a small fortune. I don't believe you could do better than to put that into a business."

"Neither do I," Daphne cried. "Let's!"

Daphne was going to be independent, but she was still all woman when

Tales of the Friendly Forest

By DAVID CORY

"My Husband Says That You Can't Make a Lot of Money Without Putting in a Lot."

Finally Daphne, claiming the majority of the power, voted on blue for "Boudoirwear," and claimed the victory. Mrs. Chivvies surrendered with the amendment that "Miss Kip" should be at one side. "Mrs. Chivvies" at the other. She bribed the assembly by promising that a cousin of hers, a young artist living in the Washington Mews, should paint a pretty sign-board on a swinging shingle. After many designs had been composed and destroyed they agreed on this legend:

BOUDOIRWEAR
Everything for the Boudoir.
Exquisite Things for Brides.
MISS KIP. MRS. CHIVVIES.

The cousin painted it well and illuminated it with elaborate initials and an allegorical figure of a young lady in Cubist negligee. It had the traditional charm of a tavern board. In fact, their shop was to be a tavern for women in search of sartorial refreshment.

The Daily Novelette

(This week's mystery.)

What was it anyhow? That is the question, puzzled reader, that is going to worry you.

The lights in the store were very dim.

"I'd like a nice clock," said the tall thin woman—the one with the face like a raccoonfort cheese.

"Here is a nice one," said the clerk, handing her a ten-pound affair that was going like a trip-hammer.

"Why, yes; it is nice, but it has stopped," said the woman.

"That's funny. It was going when I had it," said the clerk, with a puzzled air.

Here is another clock that is in good order. This is running, too."

"Yes, I hear it ticking. I'll take that one," she said, picked it up to see what sort of a face it had.

"Why, this one isn't running either. It just stopped," she exclaimed.

"Well, that's mighty mysterious," he said, frowning frigidly. "Now, here is one that is positively running! Hear it?" and he put the clock up to the thin woman's ear.

"Yes, it is going fine. Let me see and then you wrap it up quick before it stops again!" And she picked up this one too, to look at its symmetrical form.

"My heavens! I just hadn't looked at it a minute when it stopped again—this one, too!" And with a mystified air, she started to go out.

"Wait a minute, madam," called the clerk. "I'll put up the lights and try and see what is the matter with them."

But he had only taken one look at the woman's face in the brighter glow when he said, "Ah, I see what is the trouble!" And he took down a black mask from a shelf and gave it to the woman.

(The reader seeing the connection between the woman's face, the stopped clocks and the mask, will be awarded a wonderful book entitled, "She Loved Him While He Held the Wand but Left Him When He Carried the Hood."—Ed. Morning Glory.)

Sort of Pattern.

"You may lay to that," remarked the sailor to his hens as he placed a large china egg in the nest.

DINNER STORIES

One morning Mr. Smith was heard talking to himself while making his morning toilet in a manner that denoted much perturbation.

"I wonder," said Mrs. Smith, "what's provoked father now?"

"Oh, it's nothing much, mother," answered little William. "I just put a tube of sister's oil-points in place of his tube of toothpaste."

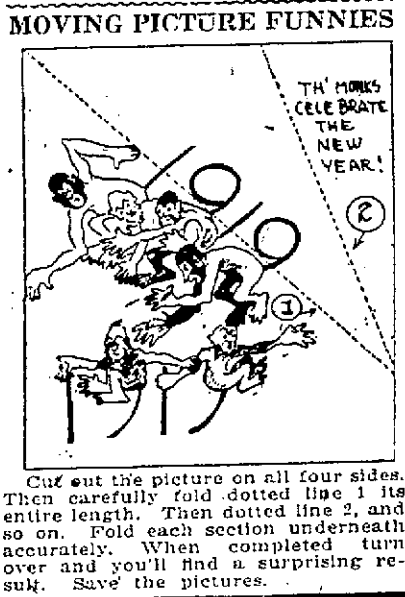

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "are you going to have freedom of the seas?"

"Why are you so interested?"

"I haven't forgotten the way we were treated at the beach last summer. I don't believe anybody has a right to rope off the ocean and then charge you fifty cents for the privilege of taking a bath in it."

"What's coming off out in front there?" asked the proprietor of the Tote Fair store in Tumlinville, Ark.

A couple of fellows from Straddle Ridge swapped mules," replied the other of skinned him."

"Well, then, why don't they trade back?"

"I reckon they are both afraid of getting skinned again."

"Your wife has imaginary ailments," said the doctor.

"Um."

"I'll just give her some imaginary medicine."

"Um."

"What kind of a bill are you going to render in this case, doc?"

"Do you believe, Bacon wrote Shakespeare?" asked the critic.

"If I did," replied Mr. Stormington Barnes, "I'd never admit it. Not with all the show printing I've got on my hands with Shakespeare's name on."

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Fine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy, that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly. You can feel this take hold of a cough, or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membrane—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will ston it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "24 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded.
